VIII INTECOL International Congress of Ecology

August 11~18, 2002
COEX, Seoul, Korea

Welcome Message

With the start of a new century, it is very meaningful for us to host VIII International Congress of Ecology in Seoul, Korea, during 11-18 August 2002. The main theme of this congress is "Ecology in a Changing World." As the country wired in arguably the best internet system in the world, we are preparing one of the most high-tech equipped congresses in the history of INTECOL.

Seoul is located within one of the world's most dynamic and intellectual cultures. With many world-renowned speakers and delegates from all over the world, VIII International Congress of Ecology will provide you with valuable opportunities to enhance your career as well as chances to exchange new ideas and valuable insights. At this congress more than 2,000 papers in various ecological areas will be presented by researchers, administrators, industrial managers and other ecology-related personnel.

We have arranged a variety of exciting and entertaining social gatherings and tour programs, which, we believe, will make your stay more enjoyable and fruitful. The congress will also provide excellent opportunities to experience Korean culture as well as to witness ecological studies and hot spots in Korea. Please do not miss the chance to feel and see everything this congress can offer. I look forward to seeing you all in Seoul in August 2002.

Prof. Dr. Byung-Sun Ihm
Vice President of INTECOL
Chair, Local Organizing Committee

Invitation from INTECOL President

At the beginning of the 21st Century ecological issues have never been more important, both at a global scale and at a national level. The international congresses of ecology provide important fora to learn more about these issues, to discuss recent advances in ecological science, and to highlight deficiencies in our knowledge which we urgently need to address.

The VIII Congress in Seoul, South Korea provides an important opportunity for ecologists to continue the advancement of our science, and to learn at first hand of the many pressing problems that we need to address. On behalf of the Board of INTECOL, I urge as many of you as possible to attend this congress and to contribute to its success. Those of us like me, who have been fortunate enough to enjoy the hospitality of the Ecological Society of Korea in the past, know that we can look forward to a well organised congress full of good science and most rewarding and enjoyable excursions and social events. I am looking forward to the Congress a great deal, and I hope to see many of you in Seoul supporting our Korean colleagues, continuing the advancement of our most important science, renewing old friendships and making many new ones.

Prof. Dr. John A. Lee
President of INTECOL

General Information

>> Country-Korea

The Korean Peninsula extends southward from the northeastern part of the Asia continent between China and Japan. With its geographical location, Korea is ideal to serve as the hub of economy, politics, society and culture in the northeast Asian region. In addition, Korea has played an important role in the cultural and economical development of the northeast Asia. Historically, Korea was renowned for its warm hospitality and kindness especially toward foreigners. As a robust and energetic people, Korean possesses an uncommon zest for life and an affinity for nature and land. It is because of this affinity for nature that Korea has smoothly held numerous, large-scale international meetings including the 1988 Olympics in Seoul and will hold the upcoming 2002 FIFA World Cup Korea/Japan.

>> City-Seoul

Seoul is both the capital and the heart of the Republic of Korea, containing about 10 million of the nation's 47 million people. It is the financial, political, commercial, recreational, educational and cultural center of Korea, and the home of major corporations, banks, government offices, leading schools and universities, theaters and entertainment facilities. There are rich and satisfying variety of things to see and do for both residents and visitors.

>> Congress Venue-Convention and Exhibition Center (COEX)

VIII INTECOL will be held at the Convention and Exhibition Center (COEX) in Seoul, located just next to the 1988 Seoul Olympic Stadium in the heart of south Seoul, close to the World Trade Center Seoul and City Air Terminal. COEX is the largest and most technically advanced facility in Korea. It was the site of the 3rd ASEM in September 2000, with 25 summits and 5,000 participants. All of the events of the INTECOL; opening and closing ceremony, plenary sessions, symposium sessions, poster sessions, workshops, exhibition and meetings, receptions and parties will be held there.

>> Incheon International Airport

Korea will embark on a new phase of its emergence as a hub for business, transportation and tourism in the Northeast Asia with the opening of the state-of-the-art Incheon International Airport (IIA). All visitors will be able to use Shuttle service or a number of transportation services offered from IIA to INTECOL congress venue and downtown Seoul. It takes around 1 hour from IIA to downtown Seoul.

>> Passport and Visa

Most visitors staying for less than 15 days with a return ticket do not need a visa to enter Korea. For exceptions, it is advisable to check with your local Korean Embassy or Consulate. Please make certain that you have a valid passport. An invitation letter, which can be used for visa applications, funding applications and etc, will be sent upon request by fax or e-mail. Participants who require a special invitation from the Organizing Committee should contact secretariat of VIII International Congress of Ecology directly.

>> Transportation

Most of the foreign travellers will be arriving in Korea via Incheon International Airport, which is located 52 km west of Seoul. Detailed information on the transportation to and from the airport will be available on the web site soon, www.seoulintecol.org.

General Information

>> Liability & Insurance

In participating in the Congress, neither the Local Organizing Committee nor the official Congress office assumes any liability whatsoever. Participants are requested to make their own arrangements for health and travel insurance.

>> Climate

Located in the temperate zone, Korea has four distinct seasons. During spring and fall, the weather is mild with blue sky and gentle sunshine. During the summer months, from June to early September, it is generally hot and humid. Temperatures range from lows of 20°C (68°F) to highs of 30°C (86°F) in late August. Winter is cold and dry with occasional snow.

>> People and Language

While Koreans belong to the Mongolian race, they have inherited and maintained their own language, culture and customs for thousands of years. The official national language is Korean, a member of the Ural- Altaic family which includes such languages as Mongolian, Finnish and Hungarian. Korean language has ten vowels and fourteen consonants and is written in its native phonetic alphabet, Hangeul, which was created in 1443 A.D.

>> Clothing

There is no dress code for the Session. The Opening Ceremony, The Official Reception and The Farewell Party are festive events where no formal dress is required. The organizers suggest you bring along with an umbrella or a raincoat. For tours, casual suits and walking shoes are recommended.

>> Currency and Exchange Rate

The unit of Korean currency is Won (KRW or ₩). The currency exchange rate is subject to daily fluctuations and is trading at around KRW 1,200 per US$ 1 Dollar (as of September 2001). Foreign currency and travellers cheques can be converted into Korean Won at most banks. Major credit cards (for example, VISA and Master Cards) are accepted at leading hotels, department stores and restaurants.

>> Time Differences

Korea is located in the region of +9 hours in relation to Greenwich Mean Time.

>> Electricity

In Korea, the standard electricity supply is 220 volts AC/60 cycles. However, outlets for both 100 and 220 volts are available at most hotels. Please check the power supply before using any electronic equipment.

>> Tax & Tipping

A value-added tax (VAT) is levied on most goods and services at a standard rate of 10% and is usually included in the retail price. However, due to the campaign "Visit Korea Year 2001, most hotels in Korea will not charge 10% VAT for rooms to foreigners during 2001-2002. For meals and other services, VAT is automatically added to the bill. Tipping is not a traditional Korean custom. A 10% service charge is added to your bill at major hotels.

>> Korean Food

Eating out is one of the great pleasures of visiting Korea, a country famous for its many native dishes. Korean cuisine will provide many unique tastes for visitors. There is also a wide variety of American, Continental, Chinese and Japanese restaurants. Korean food is rich in nutrition, well balanced and low in calories. Korean food is chiefly made of a wide variety of vegetables. Seasonings include garlic, red peppers, scallions, soy sauce, fermented bean paste, ginger and sesame oil.

Abstracts and Paper Submission

In VIII International Congress of Ecology, publication of full papers which will be available on both the web site and CD-ROM title will be prepared in addition to the publication of Scientific Program and Proceedings with Abstracts. Submission of Abstracts and Full Paper will be processed on the web site: www.seoulintecol.org and the detailed information will be available on the web site soon.

Abstract (Submission Deadline: February 28, 2002)

>> General Instruction

1. Abstracts must be prepared in English within 500 words.
2. Abstracts sent by fax will not be accepted.
3. Abstracts must be submitted via website. Please visit ABSTRACTS AND PAPER SUBMISSION on our web site and follow instructions for submitting abstracts and papers.
4. Abstracts will appear exactly as submitted and authors will have an access to their files for modification of the abstracts for a certain period of time, which will be noticed on the web site.

Itinerary: Jongmyo Shrine - Changdeok Palace - Secret Garden - Insadong Antique Street - Itaewon Shopping Street

Conditions: Admission, Lunch, English-speaking guide, Motor coach

Notes: Jongmyo closed on Tuesday, Palace closed on Monday.

Jongmyo Shrine is a heavily wooded garden containing the royal ancestral tablets of the Joseon Dynasty. In 1995, Jongmyo Shrine was added to UNESCO's World Heritage List. On the first Sunday in May, an annual confucian ceremonial rite in traditional ceremonial costume is performed in the courtyards and shrines of Jongmyo.

Changdeok Palace is constructed in 1405 as an auxiliary palace to Gyeongbok Palace and Secret Garden is the rear garden of Palace used by the King and royal family as a place for relaxation.

Insadong is a narrow street with antique stores, art galleries, and secondhand book stores. Visitors can wander and browse at leisure. Dubbed "Mary's Alley" by foreign residents of Seoul, Insadong is the most reliable to purchase antiques and reproductions in the city, particularly the many types of Joseon Dynasty chests. There are also bargains in calligraphy, paintings, and a wide variety of implements and articles from Korea's past.

Itaewon is a popular spot for visiting bargain shoppers and entertainment seekers. It is largely responsible for Seoul's international reputation as a shopper's paradise. The area's main street runs for more than a mile and is lined with stores, boutiques, and sidewalk stalls. There is an abundance of Korean and western cuisine, coffee shops, small bars, large discos, and cafes that offer a wide selection of music including jazz, country, and pop.

Price: US$ 76/person (min.10 persons basis)

Itinerary: Suwon Hwaseong Fortress - Korean Folk Village

Half-Day TOUR PROGRAM

Price: US$ 55/person (min.10 persons basis)

Itinerary: 63 Building Observatory - Han River cruise roundtrip from Yeouido

Conditions: Admission, English-speaking guide, Motor coach

The Han River once served as the southern boundary of Seoul. Since the mid-20th century, however, Seoul has been rapidly expanding across the river to the south and east, necessitating continuous bridge construction.

Tourists can enjoy a leisurely view of Seoul's modern skyline and Mt. Namsan from one of the cruise boats connecting between Yeouido Island and Jamsil.

The Korean Life Insurance Building (KLI 63 Building) on Yeouido, with its 63 floors, is one of Asia's tallest buildings and has become a popular tourist attraction with its facilities such as observation deck, aquarium, I-MAX theater.

Tour Program - Accompanying Person's Tours

HT-2. Palace & Museum Tour (Aug. 11 Sunday, 13:00~18:00)

Price: US$ 40/person (min.10 persons basis)

Itinerary: Gyeongbok Palace - The National Museum of Korea

Conditions: Admission, English-speaking guide, Motor coach

Notes: Museum closed on Monday, Palace closed on Tuesday.

Gyeongbok Palace is built in 1394 as a primary residence for the royal family. Geunjeongjeon, the largest and most impressive building in the palace, served as the throne room and audience hall. Gyeonghoiru, a spacious two-story pavilion, overlooks a picturesque man-made pond just northwest of the throne hall. It served as a feasting hall for gatherings of royal ministers and diplomats. The National Museum of Korea exhibits 4,500 artifacts representing over 5,000 years of human endeavor on the Korean Peninsula.

HT-3. Traditional Market Tour (Aug. 14 Wednesday, 13:00~18:00)

Price: US$ 36/person (min.10 persons basis)

Itinerary: Namdaemun Open Market - Gyeongdong Herbal Market

Conditions: Admission, English-speaking guide, Motor coach

Namdaemun Open Market is named after Namdaemun, Korea's National Treasure No. 1. The market is popular among local residents and tourists alike for its bargains in everything from clothes to flowers and foodstuffs.

Gyeongdong Herbal Market handles almost seventy percent of the Oriental herbal medicine traded in Korea. It was established in the beginning of the 1960s, and there are more than 1,000 stores selling Oriental medicine these days. You will smell the medicine and find many interesting scenes as soon as you enter the market.

Price: US$ 40/person (min.10 persons basis)

Itinerary: Mt. Namsan Park - Seoul Tower - Namsan Hanok Village - Myeong-dong

Conditions: Admission, English-speaking guide, Motor coach

Notes: Hanok Village closed on Tuesday.

Namsan Park is located on Mt. Namsan (256m), the center of Seoul. It contains a variety of cultural sites and entertainment facilities, including an octagonal pavilion at the summit, the Seoul Tower (236.7m), an aquarium, a fountain, as well as a botanical garden and a municipal library. Cable cars run to the top, providing a panoramic view of the entire capital city and its surrounding countryside. Moreover, many hundreds of plant species including 191 trees species grow here and squirrels inhabit the area. This is one of the most popular places for citizens of Seoul.

Seoul Tower, constructed from 1969 until 1975, is the first complex broadcasting tower in Korea. It is equipped with TV and FM sending antenna, cable antenna, communication antenna, and internet sending antenna. It was first opened to the public in October 1980. Seoul Tower Observatory is an excellent tourist destination, where you can see how the city of Seoul has developed over the last 600 years.

Hanok Village (named after a traditional Korean style house) was opened to the public in April 1998. Five traditional Korean houses have been restored on a 7,934m² site. Since the houses of noblemen in the late Chosun era have been restored along with houses of middle class and commoners, one can compare the architectural styles, housing structures, and space arrangements while enjoying the beauty of Hanok.

Myeong-dong is a first-rate shopping and entertainment area. It is noted for its eating, drinking, and entertainment establishments, frequented by crowds of all ages. Many of the city's top stores are located in the narrow alleys of Myeong-dong. Major fashion designers have boutiques here and foreign brand-name products and shoe stores can be found in abundance. In addition to its shops, Myeong-dong contains a variety of financial institutions such as banks, stock and investment companies.
